About Us

We know that traditional service plans do not always work in your favor. Paying a large sum upfront is not consumer friendly and being bound to a 72-month contract is simply unreasonable and unnecessary. Additionally, large-store retailer plans usually have a slow claims process, and they'll push you to purchase an expensive plan that you do not need.

We always keep the customer in mind when developing our Protection Plans, and this idea is at the forefront of what sets our plans apart from the competition. We offer plans with low monthly payments and allow you to save even more money by bundling with our Value Packages. We are also very proud of how quick and easy we have made the process of filing a claim and getting you what you need — you can even do it on our app! Here at Everything Breaks, it is our mission and pleasure to offer great protection at an affordable price. We have helped millions of satisfied customers keep more money in their pockets and spend less on repair bills — and we are ready to help you too!

One more thing: we have Protection Plans for everything. Smartphones, laptops, and tablets? Covered. Home and auto? Covered. Televisions and appliances? Covered.

Unexpected repairs and replacements can occur at any time — protect yourself with an Everything Breaks Protection Plan today!

Jerry Williams

I am overwhelmed by the kind of support and service Everything Breaks provides. I have now become a huge fan.

Common Service Plan Pain Points

Pushy Salesperson

Congrats! You are about to purchase a flashy flatscreen television. However, you're dreading the service plan hard-sell that you know is coming from the salesperson as you approach checkout.

Slow Claim Process

You've filed claims before and know that you must be patient, but you need to have your phone fixed before work on Monday. You wonder if there isn't a faster way to file a claim.

Multiple Service Companies

Having to juggle separate service plans for your car, home, phone, tablet, TV, and appliances is a major hassle, and there is no doubt that they stack up when it comes time to pay monthly bills.

Stuck in Long-Term Contracts

You've thought about getting a service plan for your clothes washer and dryer, but you're hesitant to lock into a multi-year deal. Is there a way to get a plan without the long-term commitment?

Surprise!

You bought a used car with over 100,000 miles on it. While it seems to be in fine condition, you ponder what you'd do if something catastrophic were to happen.

Way Too Expensive

You would love to prevent getting hit with a huge bill, but getting warranties for everything you need would be extremely expensive. "Is there a way I can bundle everything and pay one low monthly payment?"
